CLOSER LOOK: His sire won this stakes when it was contested around two turns at a mile and a sixteenth--this is the first running as a one-turn mile; closed belatedly from off a moderate pace in the seven-furlong Hutcheson, which came on the heels of another distant third-place finish here in the six-furlong Spectacular Bid; should be closing to pick up some of the pieces if there's a suicidal pace battle.

 Upset heavily-favored Quality Road here in a tough N1X while returning from a seven-month absence Jan. 10; son of Brahms possesses ample stamina in his family tree--it could be the farther, the better, for him; leading trainer McPeck and Desormeaux are a combined 16-for-48 at the meet; consider for exotics.

 Swift chestnut ran a corker when taking the six-furlong Spectacular Bid with a whooping 114 Beyer, and has since worked bullets; the runner-up from that event returned to finish second in the Sunshine Millions Dash (110 Beyer); doubt that he'll be around to play on the next Saturday in May, but a one-turn mile should be within his range if he's able to out-sprint all the other speed in the field; upgrade his chances if the track is kind to inside/speed types.

Turf specialist is by a hot young sire, Candy Ride, and is definitely bred to handle a conventional dirt track; overcame a very wide draw to take the $100K Dania Beach, from which the fifth and 12th horses both exited to capture a $100K stakes; Douglas replaces Leparoux, who's sticking with Capt. Candyman Can; outsider.

Gamely defeated the well-regarded Giant Oak and Capt. Candyman Can in the G2 Ky. JC at Churchill; had a wide trip after breaking from post 10 here in the G3 Holy Bull, but finished a respectable fourth in a race that was dominated by the front-runners; should move forward, although his trainer is 0-for-13 with horses making their second start off a layoff in graded stakes in the last five years (6 of them hit the board).

His worst efforts came after he broke from post 1, and that may have led to his downfall in the G2 Hutcheson, in which he wound up on the outside before fading; Kimmel won at a 14% clip with first-time blinkers going back five years, and has been shut-out here this year when using Coa; could rebound and make his presence felt at a square price.

The number eight ranked male 3yo in North America, according to DRF; was taken back out of a speed duel midway through the G2 Hutcheson, and he eventually prevailed by daylight with a 101 Beyer; captured the G3 Iroquois traveling a mile around one turn at Churchill, over a trio of next-out winners; perhaps the one to fear most with the crafty Leparoux back in the saddle.

Rapid sprinter is unbeaten in three starts, two of which were over Aqueduct's inner track, which was playing fair until just recently; the trailer in his last race returned to land an N1X; son of G1 Met Mile winner Aldebaran is stepping up significantly in class, and his connections might opt to experiment with rating tactics, because he doesn't figure to survive a front-end confrontation with Notonthesamepage and/or Quality Road; don't like his chances.

Graduated at first asking at Aqueduct while receiving a 101 Beyer--the race produced two next-out winners, but the second, third and fourth horses all came back to disappoint; was upset by Theregoesjojo in an allowance early in the meet, and is going on Lasix, a successful angle for Jerkens; possesses a blend of speed and stamina in his pedigree, but the other speed in the field may lead to his downfall.

Much has been made of the remarkable improvement Phil showed in his first start for Dutrow, who routinely moves up his new acquisitions; a one-turn mile should be within his range, but he figures to regress in his second start off the sidelines; outside draw will enable Prado to do whatever he wants with him, and he could be along for a high placing if he doesn't bounce too high. -Ron Gierkink
