CAYENNE KISS had a head advantage inside a challenging rival through the backside, was collared outside in midturn for the top spot, shifted to the three path edging away from outside rivals at the top of the lane and drew oof when asked for more at the furlong pole to win going away impressively in the end. PRETTY GOOD JOKE was under a snug hold hounding the pacesetter outside, moved up on even terms fighting for the lead with five sixteenths from home, angled to the five path in the thick of things still turning for home, could not quicken with the frontrunning winner by the furlong marker but did dig in in deep stretch to last for the runners up share from a late closing outside foe. CHARGETHATMOUNTAIN was nestled on the fence watching the engaged duo in the early stages, moved out reaching for more ground at the quarter pole, sat just behind the duelling front pair at the top of the stretch, could not threaten the winner who had more late, closed in belatedly in the late stages but just missed outside for the second place money and had to settle for a clear third instead at the wire. SKYLIGHT CAPER was unhurried, galloping along at the back of the pack, continued to see the group around the turn taking the short way and finished up mildly just off the fence in the stretch drive to get up right on the finish line outside to settle on the fringes. PRINCESSONAMISSION was isolated in midfield down the back straight, could not make any gain on the front trio around the oval outside another foe, angled four wide in upper stretch but needed more late when unable to hold for a minor placing inside right at the finish line in a tight photo. LA BELVA had a stalking role near the rear, could not make any advancement travelling on the fence throughout the turn, hugged the rail straightening for home but lacked a rally in the drive to the wire.
