Dk. b or br. f, (Feb), by Cloud Computing – My Lil Shamrock, by City Zip. Trainer Day–Phillips Catherine. Bred by Ledgelands LLC (Shelley Ritter) & Andrew C Ritter (Ky).

BULLET JOURNAL moved up to inherit the lead just off the fence inside the early leader under a snug hold at the five eighths pole, cruised around the bend with the rider still in the saddle opening up at the will by the quarter pole setting a lively pace, continued to increase the advantage turning for home well within himself and coasted on home unopposed for the dominant win. FLEURY settled in the middle of the pack while three deep outside a couple of rivals, improved three wide circling horses throughout the turn and closed in belatedly to easily best the rest for the runners up share but well behind the overpowering winner. BEAUTIFUL THINGS was hard held flanking the leader outside midway down the backstretch, was scrubbed on for more but the winner was getting away in midturn, continued to give futile chase in the four path down the lane, weakened in the final sixteenth of a mile and just lasted on the outside for the show award. APPRECIATIVELY had horses on both sides sitting in midfield down the backside, was roused but made little headway between foes around the bend, shifted to the three path for the stretch run and showed interest inside coming on late but just missed getting up for the third-place share at the finish line. PARTY CENTRAL was void of early foot seeing the field down the backside, remained at the rear in the early parts of the turn running, shifted to the four path catching up to runners by the quarter pole, angled to the five path for the drive to the wire but lacked a rally, failing to fire in the final furlong. CANDY COATED had the rail sitting in midfield down the backstretch, came under a drive but was going in the wrong direction on the fence at the five sixteenths pole, hugged the rail but folded in upper stretch.
