FLYONBYE had a nice trip relaxed all alone watching the lone speed pacesetter, started to measure the frontrunner eating away at the leader on the turn by the quarter pole, shifted outside closing in sharply at the furlong pole, took control by the sixteenth pole but still had to stay busy late with the runner up fighting inside until the very end. NAMED FIREY broke sharp clearing from the outer post to get loose up top on the fence by the five eighths pole, increased the margin up top by midturn, had a diminishing advantage on the rail in upper stretch, tried to counter when the winner drove by at the sixteenth pole and was gallant in defeat trying to come back on in deep stretch inside. ANDTHEOSCARGOESTO had the rail keeping tabs on the front pair along the backstraight, advanced on the rail on the turn taking closer order to the leader two furlongs from the wire, shifted to the three path straightening out and finished up willingly being a clear but distant third. FIN DEL MUNDO was unhurried at the tail end in the beginning, caught up to the pack sharing the rear inside at the half, made little headway saving ground through the bend and rallied smartly up the fence in mid-stretch to be a fringe player in the end. CHASING MEMORIES had the outside position keeping a close eye on the top two runners along the backside, travelled three wide on the turn narrowing the margin with a quarter mile from home, shifted to the four path turning for home but had little finish when evening out between runners in the final furlong. UP N THE ANTE settled in midfield three deep at the half mile pole, travelled three to four wide on the bend trying to circle around horses at the quarter marker, angled to the five path in upper stretch but flattened out outside a couple of runners at the furlong marker. YORKSTREET had a stalking role early on having one runner beaten, co-trailed on the outside at the half, dropped back through the turn well behind the group and was empty in the drive never playing a factor down the stretch.
