TWEETERNITY tossed its head hopping upwards then was followed by stumbling a few jumps later out of the gate spotting the field understandably so leaving the chute, started to relax improving on the fence smartly by the half, kept a close eye on the embattled trio saving all the ground on the turn, shifted to the two path in the mix but lacking running room, had to be wrangled back at the furlong pole having no seam, shifted out getting clear run three wide at the sixteenth pole and determinedly ran down the embattled pair in deep stretch for the impressive score considering all the bad racing luck throughout. HOT GYAL MOSSOP broke inwards on the break, chased the frontrunner outside at the half mile pole, vied between horses midway through the oval, had the two path battling stubbornly through the drive between foes in the late going but was no match for the winner outside in the final seventy yards settling for second best on this day. BENKA had a slim lead on the inside in the early going, inched further away at the four furlong marker, slowed the tempo down while pressed outside by a couple of rivals keeping a head in front in the turn running, skimmed the fence still keeping foes at bay in upper stretch, dug in clinging inside with a furlong to go but could not find a little bit more late when fading on the fence in the final sixteenth of a mile to be a clear third at the wire. NEXT OF KIN was four deep initially being part of the foursome up top entering the backstretch, took closer order only now three deep by the half mile marker outside, rallied three wide throughout the bend making a bid outside of two others in midturn, shifted out to the four path still in the hunt outside the leaders at the top of the stretch but stalled by the furlong pole just holding on for a minor placing in the end. STILETTO VIXEN broke in at the start, was prominent early on having the three-path close to the pace in the beginning, took back at the half tracking the duo while inside another, dropped out of it relegated to the rear two wide at the three eighths pole, swung out widest in the five-path turning for home but could not factor in the stretch running.
