MOVENTOTHECOUNTRY had a head in front on the fence in the early stages, edged away for a clear advantage by the half, opened up at will travelling well in hand at the five sixteenths pole, had a commanding advantage at the top of the stretch and cruised on in through the lane to win comfortably for the front running tally. MCKENZIE ROAD was situated outside the pacesetter pressing the issue two wide on the initial turn, contently sat just off the front runner outside down the backstretch, was urged for more at the three eighths pole but the winner pulling further away by the five sixteenths marker, had the two path giving futile chase down the stretch and lasted at the wire besting the rest for the place share. MAXINE MAGIC had to be checked slightly between runners coming under the wire for the first time, settled close to the back in the early stages, started to lengthen stride two wide at the quarter pole making a good rally inside of horses straightening out for the drive and had good late energy in the three path down the stretch to close in and just get up outside at the wire for the show award. THATSITTHATSALL ran as a pair with an outside foe in the second flight well off the contesting lead twosome, started to come with a run trying to narrow the margin midway around the second turn on the lead pair while separating herself from the rest of the pack, had the three path in the stretch running but was drifting in and out getting weary in the last sixteenth and got nabbed on the outside losing third place at the finish line. THAT GIRL ARTEMUS had the rail position in midfield with the group very spread out along the backside, saved ground closing the gap on the far turn, moved in two wide in upper stretch having a chance for a small share but could not continue the run and idled inside of rivals in the final sixteenth of a mile. SERENADING AMAYA settled near the rear while having to go three wide on the first of two turns, travelled on the outside still while three deep along the back straight, ran one paced on the second bend remaining three wide, swung out widest in the five path in upper stretch and had little offer offer down the lane. LADIES RUM broke inwards being taken up briefly at the start, trailed the field around the first turn, continued at the rear along the backside, made no progression while three wide around the final bend and could only manage to pass a weary foe in the stretch drive. MAKAYLA travelled two wide outside another watching the lead pair early on, remained on the outside in the second flight well behind the front duo down the backstretch, could no quicken at the five sixteenths pole when called upon for more, retreated two wide between runners with a quarter mile from home, emptied out in the three path by the furlong marker and cantered home in the late going.
